Mota Kurasawa

PLEASE READ [BLUE SKY PLAYGROUND] 1 AND 2 FOR A MORE DETAILED STORYLINE HIGHLY ACCLAIMED

Summary

Mirita, a freshman, suffers from cryophobia (a fear of cold). One winter day, she accidentally discovers her most beloved kotatsu (a table that keeps one warm) in the school! Because of the kotatsu, Mirita was acquainted with two of the most popular and handsome twin brothers at school, the Shukan brothers. In exchange for the right to go inside the room, the Shukan younger brother, Nomura, requested for Mirita to kiss his brother Kaise. Afterwards, Mirita slowly began to fall in love with Kaise. But Nomura actually confessed to her! Mirita didn't know how she should react to Nomura's confession, so she treated it as one of his jokes. However, Mirita's attitude towards the confession hurt Nomura's feelings... Mirita knew she should make things clear, and she decided to confess to Kaise... However, Kaise told her "I don't like you'..?

THANK YOU EVERYONE! IT'S ALREADY THE LAST VOLUME!!

Hi everyone— Hi everyone— Hi everyone~~! I am Mota Kurasawa! Wah~ Another volume published~ I am really happy!

Let us continue with the section in Volume 2! The title is...

Has

MOTA KURASAWA'S MANGA IMPROVED?! Section

Although this plan seems to be satisfying myself only— But, there are only 2 other resolves left unchecked! Just let me continue with this~ ← Failing heart

Resolve #4 [THE DRAWING OF THE CHARACTERS HAS TO IMPROVE!] ➡ Checked

—It is very—terrible. I haven't been practicing drawing of the characters all this while— the reason being the lack of time—actually is the truth. However, if I use not having enough time as an excuse for everything—then I won't need to do anything already. Besides, I also spend a lot of time watching television— So, there is simply no reason to say that I don't have enough time to practice drawing— Very regrettable.

So, my self-discipline is telling me [X] x x! ^^

Hurry up and think of a way to prove it!

Resolve #5 [BACKGROUND SCENES...?] ➡ Checked

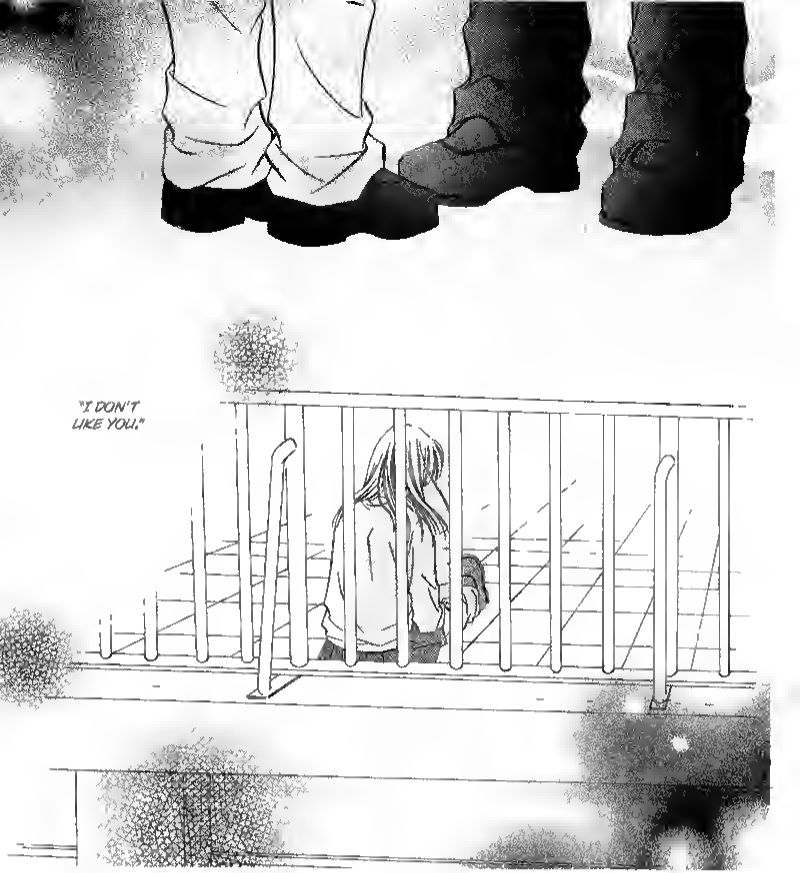
I hate drawing background scenes, this is something everyone knows. But recently, I don't hate it as much... In fact, I am beginning to like it! Such a drastic change (at least for me)! I am really glad. But, I have only 'begun to like it'... In terms of skills, there hasn't been any marked improvement... Ha ha ha. Even up till now, I still can't figure out how to draw using perspective drawing... (Can I still be considered a professional mangaka...?) If I can have a holiday for one month, I really hope I can think of a good way to improve my background drawing skills... Someday (Which day exactly?) when I take a break, I will work hard to improve...

Triangle

So [△] there is still a little hope...

Back to the topic, this section has been continued since [Onna no Kotte Honto ni Mou]... If I don't keep on reflecting myself from time to time, I will immediately become lazy again. I totally have no trust in myself... Therefore, I will continue to work hard.

(A puzzling ending)



Note 2 I WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA!! . . . I often receive letters from readers expressing such feelings. I can confidently tell everyone, the job of a mangaka is really wonderful! But, it might not be as suitable for people who wish to have a stable (financial) lifestyle. People who dare to take risks, love drawing and thinking of story plots as well as active self-improvement (+ a bit passive), can try going down the path of a mangaka! This job is quite suitable for financially poorer people (like me). So long as you have paper, pencil, ink, a story plot, a set square... in addition to another 5000 dollars, you can start to work already. But by "work", it only refers to the work you do after you become a professional mangaka. So this section is only to explain to everyone "what you must do to become a mangaka..." I think I shall discuss this with everyone slowly and lazily (!! How can you be like this?!)

Hi everyone!
I am Mota Kurashiki.

Example panel that have been taken out. There's a bear near the bottom.

It is so fast! Mota finally published her fourth volume edition "Blue Sky Playground Volume 3"! Sometimes I will feel scared... will I stop publishing up till here...? No way! My work is progressing smoothly now, so I hope it can be the same in the future... Ganbatte! I really like to work. It is, of course, very tiring before the deadline, but most of the time I am just humming tunes while drawing! At these times, I will feel very fortunate to be a mangaka... Yeah, that's right! It feels different drawing drafts that will definitely be published! Thanks Heaven, thanks Shueisha* and thanks to all the readers. From the first to the last column space, I will most likely maintain such an atmosphere. It has only just started! Everyone, please enjoy~

Please accept this!
IS NOMURA NEVER GOING TO SPEAK TO ME AGAIN...?
Are you sure this can be eaten?
Yeah.

Note 2 I WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA! ~No need to hurry, relax and calm down~

About debuting as a mangaka, it seems that most young readers have thoughts like, "If I want to debut I should debut before I turn twenty!", "It is best to become a mangaka while I am still in high school!" Of course, in reality there are a lot of mangaka who debuted when they were still very young. Furthermore, the perspective of young people is more suited for drawing the vibrant and youthful style of shoujo manga. Actually, I am not against all of you debuting while you all are young (the truth is the chances of debuting is higher if you are young), but there are still many people who are older than 20 or 25 years old who become a mangaka. There are a lot of people who don't give up despite being rejected many times. I think, it is necessary to strive on for 3 to 5 years, continue to rise up to the challenge and not give up.

WHO ELSE, BUT THE ONE WHOM YOU SAID, "I DON'T LIKE YOU" TO...!

Arghhhh... I think the pencil I used to write the notes is too thick... The words must be hard to read, right? So from here onwards, I have changed to a thinner pencil. (From another point of view, words written with a thin pen may be hard to read too...) Firstly, I want to report to everyone about my current situation, actually, there has not been much change, I am just as busy every day. Yeah, and it is great becoming an adult. When I was still a student, I often felt "I am so bored ~ I am going to die of boredom" When I started to publish my manga, it became "I am so busy ~ I am going to die from business". Even though it is like this, I am still doing my work at my own pace. Ha ha. In comparison, the editor-in-charge is so much busier than me. He has not even seen some very famous television advertisement. When I first knew that, I was really shocked. Besides, I still have time to watch television (one hour every two days), and also to listen to radio broadcasts. The conclusion is, from my description of my current situation... all of you probably feel that my life is very relaxed...

...WORDS LIKE "I DON'T LIKE YOU",
IF YOU ARE SAYING THEM TO DECEIVE OTHERS THEN IT IS A HORRIBLE LIE
BUT IF YOU REALLY FEEL THAT WAY DEEP IN YOUR HEART, THEN IT IS RIGHT FOR YOU TO SAY IT OUT TRUTHFULLY.
YOU ARE SO STRONG-WILLED
...EVEN THOUGH I AM REALLY ANGRY WITH THAT GIRL,
IT STILL CANNOT AMOUNT TO "DISLIKE".

Note 3 I WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA!! ~Mota's personal experience~

About striving on for 3 to 5 years, this is actually based on my personal experience. I began drawing manga when I was 21 years old, and I only officially debuted as a mangaka through Margaret* when I was 25. Before that, I had also published my works in other magazines - but ...It was not very successful. (Now that I think about it, I really gave my editor-in-charge then a lot of trouble. I didn't have the talent, yet I was very proud ...) So as to say, from the time when I started submitting my works, to when I could draw according to my own style, it was about 4 years' time. My drawing skill seems to be slightly better now when I am an adult than when I was still a teenager. (In other words, I became even more cunning than before (laughs)). Anyway, for someone like me who cannot get the gist of things easily, it takes about 3 to 5 years to become a mangaka. In more unfortunate circumstances, it could even take 10 years. Therefore, if you have decided upon debuting as a mangaka, you must be prepared to wait. In this way, you will not be so troubled when submitting your works.

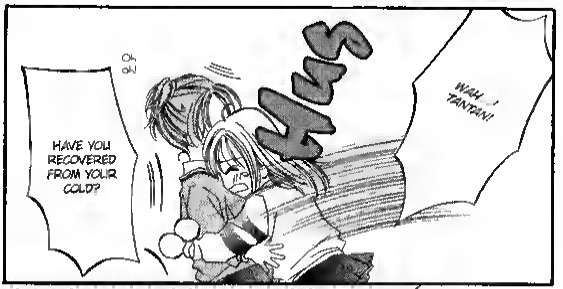
I keep saying I have nothing to do, so everyone around me thinks that I really have nothing to do. This is rather troubling. I seem to be a lazy person to everyone. Usually I will lock myself up in the room on the second storey to concentrate on my work, and when I occasionally go down to the first storey to take a rest, the greeting I receive from my family is actually "You only woke up just now?" My friends also frequently berate me, "Quickly finish drawing your drafts!" Err... My friends have really helped me by a lot, especially in pasting screentones* (I and the people who helped me are all working adults, shopkeepers, friends who are totally not related to manga). So, it is reasonable for them to complain. Although I always feel very apologetic, but I still needed my friends' help every time. The screentone for the uniforms in "Blue Sky Playground", has always been pasted by my friends. (My goodness. Why am I writing so much and yet so incoherently...?) In conclusion, even though I like to say that I have nothing to do, but in fact, I actually still have a lot of work to do. Everyone, please forgive me, especially my family and friends! (In the end I still don't understand what I am doing...)

*Translator's note: Screentone is a technique for applying textures and shades to drawings. A traditional screentone sheet consists of a flexible transparent backing, the printed texture, and a wax adhesive layer. The sheet is applied to the paper adhesive down and rubbed with a stylus on the backing side. The backing is then peeled off, leaving the ink adhered to the paper where pressure was applied. (That's what Mota means when she says paste the screentones)



SORRY FOR NOT LETTING YOU VISIT ME WHEN I WAS SICK
I was afraid I would pass the cold to you
WHEN I WOKE UP THIS MORNING, MY FEVER HAD ALREADY SUBSIDED, SO I THOUGHT I WOULD BE ABLE TO COME TO SCHOOL THIS AFTERNOON

Note 4 I WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA!! ~Mota's suggestions are slightly biased~

Yeah. Because I debuted at a much older age, it turned out that most of the suggestions I wrote are biased towards encouraging people who are in their twenties (Note 2, 3 also) Readers of this manga seem to be all teenagers who are only 10+ years old. Sorry. Okay! Let's write! Yeah, Err About this I am not like that kind of people who are very clever (this is very sad). So it is difficult for me to make suggestions such as 'As long as you do this you will definitely be able to become a mangaka in one year's time' But, for me to make comments like 'If you make this a habit in about three years time, you will have the potential to become a mangaka' It is still OK. In conclusion, my method is to let everyone 'develop slowly' For readers who want to 'debut in one go' I am sorry but I will not be able to help you.

I watched a *V.League's volleyball match

That's right, a volleyball match! Men's team—I have a relative who became an avid fan of volleyball after watching the World Cup qualifying matches. Especially *Takahiro Yamamoto, who is playing for *Panasonic Panthers (He is very handsome!). I don't know why, but I went together with her to Hiroshima to watch a V.League's match. In the end... it was really very exciting! The volleyball matches are so nice to watch! Usually, I would be staring uninterestedly, but after watching that match, I was all bright eyed and I could not help saying, "Sports are so wonderful—" (Part of the content above has been exaggerated). I even saw *Kenji Onoue from JT (He is a player from the opponent team. He also played in the World Cup qualifying matches, and is also very popular). I will most likely go and watch the final match in May— I hope then I will be able to see *Akira Koshiya, *Makitani Osami and *Hosokawa Nobuyoshi live in action ~ (To readers who have no interest in volleyball—I am very sorry—)

*Translator's note: V.League is the top-level volleyball league for both men and women in Japan. Takahiro Yamamoto is a volleyball player from Japan who has won many awards. Panasonic Panthers is a men's volleyball team based in Hirakata city, Osaka, Japan. It plays in V.League. The names listed are of famous Japanese baseball players.

Note 5 WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA! ~Make it a habit to write a diary~

Manga is a product which consists of both, pictures and dialogue (words). Among the people who want to become a mangaka, there should be a lot of you who like to draw. In comparison, people who like to 'play with words" would most likely be comparatively lesser, right? Actually, an interest in writing is a useful advantage for a mangaka. However, you don't need to have excellent results in Japanese, or be very proficient in writing... As long as you are able to express your thoughts clearly, it will be sufficient. In order to train your sensitivity to words, the best method is to write a diary. ...Ah, another way would be to write poems. This is also another good way to develop a good grasp of words! Try it yourself~

This week we will be intensifying our practice in preparation for the coming Ball Games Competition.
ISN'T THAT JUST A NORMAL THROW AND PASS?
Are they using technical terms for basketball?
IT CAN'T BE HELPED LOOKS ARE MORE IMPORTANT

AH AH AH AH!
I CANNOT DO IT
TAKE A STEP BACK TO TAKE ON THE JOB OF A MC

WHY ...?
Please~ help yourselves ~
ISN'T TAKAKURA MORE SUIT-ABLE?
TO become the MC
THAT IS RIGHT.
I is as suitable as how the policewoman costume suits me
AH AH! I CANNOT DO IT!
You still need to train your courage to perform on stage!
ALSO, NO MASKS ALLOWED!
KAISE ...
... AH!

SUCH DISILLUSIONMENT.
Never mind at least he is still doing his job as a committee member properly

Senpai what are you working?
.NOWADAYS, HE SEEMS TO BE VERY CLOSE TO THE FIRST-YEAR GIRLS ..
AND THE "GIRLFRIEND" HE HAD LAST TIME .

*Translator's note: Onigiri is a Japanese snack which is white rice formed into a triangular or oval shape and wrapped in nori (seaweed).

*Translator's note: Itadakimasu is a phrase said by Japanese at the start of a meal.
IT IS A COLLOQUIAL TERM USED BY IDOLS IN THE PAST.
IT IS NOW VERY POPULAR IN CLASS 2
Bwahaha! Why do you all learn such a thing?
AFTER PRACTICE, THEY WILL EVEN SAY, "EVERYONE HAS WORKED HARD YO" TOGETHER!
Wah! Let's say it too ~~
I SHALL HELP MYSELF YO!
THEN I ALSO WANT
Let me try once
ITADAKIMASU* YO!
WHY DO YOU ADD A "YO" AT THE END OF YOUR SENTENCES?
Wahaha
Everyone will be able to eat this after practice.
OK
SO WE MUST, AT LEAST, CONTRIBUTE BY MAKING HOMEMADE LOVE ONIGIRI FOR EVERYONE!
WE ARE NOT PARTICIPATING IN THE COMPETITION (LACK OF ATHLETIC SKILLS), HEY!
See you later
OK!
Good job yo!
Wah
INDEED, EVERYONE IS USING IT
I keep learning it
CLASS 2...
THAT MEANS KAISE WILL BE PRACTICING AS WELL...

shock
NO... NOMURA!
There are rice grains on your hand.
chomp
WHY... WHY DID YOU... YOU SUDDENLY DO THAT...?
PRACTICE IS SO TIRING... I FEEL SO HUNGRY...
NOMURA, YOU CANNOT DO THIS
...BOTH OF THEM..
ARE ACTUALLY VERY LOVING
Don't want to admit it!
FEELS LIKE ANY OTHER BOYFRIEND AND GIRLFRIEND...
I want to eat that

BUT ...
BUT ...
(CLENCH)
STUPID.
...
"I AM NOT HIS GIRLFRIEND."
"NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR IT TO CHANGE."
SUCH WORDS THAT DO NOT TAKE INTO ACCOUNT OTHERS' FEELINGS, I DON'T WANT TO SAY THEM AGAIN.
IN AN INNOCENT, PITIFUL UNREQUITED LOVE.
I AM TOTALLY ...

Eh?

NOMURA ...
Waah
I don't believe this! Both of you are already not comfortable with each other!
Further-more it is. !
Waah
KIND OF UNREQUITED LOVE!
FURTHERMORE, IT IS THE UNWILLING-TO-GIVE-UP...

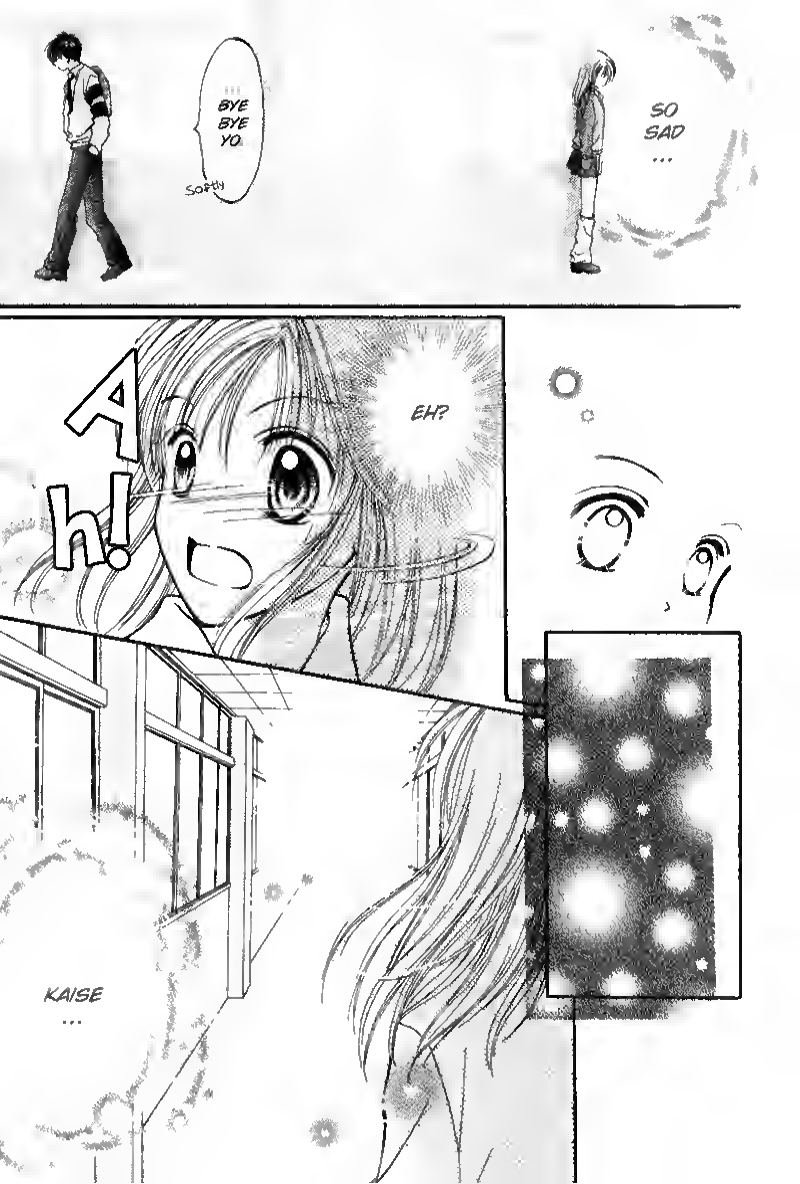
Sigh, you also deserve others' pity sometimes.
I wish I was like you.
Dust-sssd
But not everyone knows about that matter!
Yeah ...
That is true, but
You must be more careful.
I heard about what happened in the home economics classroom.
If this continues, other girls will start treating you as their enemy.
Sob ...
But at that time, when Nomura said that, I was glad.
Takakura ...
...don't think you are that horrible of a person.
It is a bit too much for him to turn you down like that.
So you must work harder to become the MC for the ball games competition!
Okay! It is okay if you want to wear a mask!
But in the end you just wanted to say this?

THE PAIR OF HANDS ON MY SHOULDERS
HELPED ME REGAIN A BIT OF MY SELF-CONFIDENCE
...
Silence...
Ah, senpai! You are wearing your PE attire!
WHY IS IT THAT HE "DOESN'T LIKE"
AND THIS ARMY OF STRANGE FIRST-YEAR GIRLS IS OK WITH HIM?
I don't understand!
KAISE IS REALLY HARD TO UNDERSTAND
SENPAI, YOU MUST FULFILL THE PROMISE YOU MADE LAST TIME.
AS LONG AS WE DO NOT BULLY SUMAGAI MIRITA, YOU MUST GO ON A DATE WITH US!

GOOD JOB YO!
BYE BYE YO!
Good job yo~
Ahaha
IT HAS REALLY BECOME POPULAR OVER THE PAST TWO OR THREE DAYS...
Everyone is saying it!
That kind of scene.
IT FEELS LIKE HOW PEOPLE IN TROPICAL COUNTRIES GREET EACH OTHER...
Bye bye yo~
Good job yo!
Then I will be going.
ba-thump
KAISE...
THIS SHOULD BE COUNTED AS A TERM USED BY FRIENDS, RIGHT?
Bye bye

I REGAINED A BIT OF MY SELF-CONFIDENCE...
I HOPE THAT WE CAN STILL BE "FRIENDS..."
GOOD JOB YO!
Good.
I said it
SUCH A SIMPLE ...
GREETING...
Good job yo!
Bye bye yo!
...
PASS
WHY?

DOES HE NOT EVEN WANT TO REPLY TO SUCH A SIMPLE GREETING...?
I NOW...
...DO NOT EVEN HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE A "FRIEND ANYMORE?



BYE BYE YO.
SO SAD ...
EH?
Ah!
KAISE ...

Run!
EH?
EH?
YOU WANT TO HELP?
YOU WANT TO HELP ME CARRY THIS?
That is great! I can go to my club activity immediately with this!
SUMAGAI, SHE..
...SEEMED TO BE VERY ENERGETIC.
IT WAS ONLY A SOFTLY-SPOKEN SENTENCE. .
"BYE BYE YO"!
A SINGLE GREETING BETWEEN "NORMAL" FRIENDS...
IT IS ONLY LIKE THIS...

BUT EVEN THOUGH IT IS ONLY LIKE THIS...
...DOES IT MAKE ME FULL OF ENERGY?
WHY...
WAH ...
Everyone, come over and eat!
This is great!
Nanami
I CAN'T DO IT! SHE IS STILL VERY ANNOYING!
Ah, she's energetic but she is still clumsy as usual Trip

bounce bounce...
Wah, Nomura! Go pick it up
YEAH YEAH
The ball...ah, the ball...ah
AND ANYWAY!
WHAT DOES KAISE-SENPAI MEAN BY THAT?
SINCE HE HAS ALREADY REJECTED HER, THEN HE DOES NOT HAVE TO BOTHER WITH HER ANYMORE!
He is still protect ing her like that
The very annoying type
She likes to be jealous
IN ANY CASE, HE IS TAKING TOO MUCH CARE OF THAT WOMAN!
DON'T BE LIKE THIS!
I AM NOT DOING IT ON PURPOSE...
I WAS WATERING THE PLANTS WHEN I ONLY SPRAYED WATER ON SUMAGAI-SENPAI ACCIDENTALLY...
YOU USUALLY DON'T EVEN WATER THE PLANTS!
LOOK AT MY LONG-DISTANCE WATER-SHOOTING!
Wah! It is delicious!

Writer's note 5

I really like eating natto* ... I also do not know why I suddenly want to write about this topic ... Anyway, I like to eat natto! I especially like to eat natto together with eggs that are boiled in hot springs. In the past, I did not like it at first, but now, I am really addicted to the taste of natto. Also, stewed natto and hiziki (my grandmother's home cooking) are also very delicious. Recently, there have been a lot of different flavors of natto being sold, and that makes me very happy. For example, there are natto which are kimchi-flavored, shiitake mushroom flavored, miso-flavored and daikon-flavored (by adding the sauce for that flavor) ... etc. Every flavor is quite delicious! (I have tried all of them) From disliking natto to becoming so happy when eating natto ... I suddenly have a strange sense of self-confidence ... In the future, no matter how poor I become, as long as I have natto, eggs and milk, I will be able to live on!

*Translator's note: Natto is a traditional Japanese food made from soybeans fermented with Bacillus subtilis. Hiziki is a brown sea vegetable growing wild on rocky coastlines around Japan, Korea and China. Kimchi is a traditional Korean pickled dish made of vegetables with varied seasonings. The Shiitake (Lentinula edodes) is an edible mushroom native to East Asia, and is therefore included in the dishes of many Asian countries. Miso is a traditional Japanese seasoning produced by fermenting rice, barley and/or soybeans to form a thick paste. Daikon is the Japanese name for a mild-flavored very large, white East Asian radish.

Note 6 WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA!! ~Read song lyrics in detail~

All of you probably read the song lyrics only when you have just bought a new CD to listen to, right? I suggest that all of you should choose a favorite song of yours, and read the song lyrics more frequently. Reading the lyrics written by professional musicians and song-writers can help to train up your sensitivity towards words. This ability will come in useful when you need to decide what the main character should say. I feel that in order to come up with a new work, imagination to some extent is needed, like imagining yourself to be a poet in your mind. Err . This can be seen as something like self-hypnosis. In conclusion, by reading more, you will be able to improve your ability to come up with a new work unconsciously.

Writer's note 7

It is really fun to walk in the swimming pool

Walking in water is becoming more and more popular recently. It is really great! It is not only good for the body, it also helps psychologically! Usually, I would stay at home to work, so I always try to find opportunities to go to the swimming pool for exercise @ once I start drawing the drafts, I will have no chance to do so...) But swimming takes too much toll on me, once I get home I will be unable to work (because I go straight to sleep) The amount of exercise from walking in water is just right I walk for 60 to 90 minutes every time, thinking about stuff while slowly walking in the water. After the exercise, somehow I feel that life is really wonderful ~ Sometimes, I may even think of new ideas for my drafts I always cycle to and from the swimming pool, so in fact the amount of exercise I do is still quite a lot I will always feel especially tired on that day every time I go to the swimming pool But I still enjoy going there!

Note 7 WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA!!
~Ah, there is no more space for me to write~

I seemed to have written a lot of nonsense... Some very talented people may say, "Don't be foolish! Drawing manga depends on your talent!" I agree... but I feel that "talent" can also come from practice. I have always held this notion in my mind, as I persevere on to be a mangaka. I really hope the culture of "manga" can continue on, so I wanted to share some tips of my own with everyone... Err... I seemed to have diverted from the topic even further. Sorry, sorry... This will be continued in the omake at the end of this volume.

chatter
Although I don't get what is going on

ANYWAY, YOU...
I LIKE SUMAGAI.

I LIKE SUMAGAI!

YOU ACTUALLY SAID IT SO STRAIGHT-FORWARDLY.
WHAT?

"I DON'T LIKE YOU."
WHAT'S THE MEANING OF THIS?
IN ORDER TO PROTECT ME?
IN ORDER TO PROTECT SUMAGA!
IT SEEMS LIKE KAISE HAS BEEN HOLDING HIMSELF BACK.
No!
SO BOTH OF THEM HAVE MUTUAL FEELINGS FOR EACH OTHER!
That's how it is!
There's no need to argue anymore!
NOW, WE HAVE TO ASK EVERYONE PRESENT!

The last vertical column! Oh oh... "Blue Sky Playground" is full of commemorative significance, and the last space is used just like this...

I still have not changed my foolish nature... In conclusion, I really have to thank a lot of people~ To everyone, please continue writing letters to me! Even though I can only reply using photocopied drafts, my reply letters are all very significant. So I hope everyone can continue to support me. The theme for this picture is, "Three of them eating clouds happily"
Ha ha ha... This is really heart-warming

Omake

The manga is finally finished! Well done! Hmm... In other words, this is the start of the omake! The picture at the top was originally drawn with pencil, but I was worried over how it would turn out after printing (I have no idea how the lines will look...) Never mind, there is no use worrying over such a thing. We'd better get started on the main theme~

Next Go!!

WANT TO BECOME A MANGAKA!!

There is no more space for me to continue writing, so I moved it here instead. Some of the readers may have started thinking, "Please... You haven't finished...?" Err... Actually, I also know this myself... If you have any opinions on what I write on my manga volumes (It is okay even if it is a hurtful remark), please feel free to write to me! There is still much I can learn.

"To be a mangaka (or rather to be a good mangaka), what should I do?" After saying so much, I should make a summary of what I have written up till here. I picked out some key points, hope they will be of some help to you all.

- Reduce the time you spend watching television, spend more time thinking alone. (For example, things that happened in school, etc, it does not have to be profound.)
- Be more attentive in listening to others. (You can derive many ideas for your stories.)
- Buy a guide on drawing human body positions. (You should be able to find it in the Arts and Design section of a large bookstore. It should cost around 2000 yen per book.) After that, you have to practice very hard on drawing human bodies. (You must understand that it is not fun at all.)
- Learn, research more on, "cute things, things that girls like," and merge it with your manga. I am actually not very trendy... Even after researching so much, I only improved a little. But, it is still better than not knowing at all! And I get to buy many magazines that young girls like to read, really enjoyable.

Then, this is the end of this section! We will meet again next time.

...Well, there is actually nothing that terrible. (Then, what are you doing...?) I suddenly wanted to know, "which prefecture's readers sent the most letters?"

...Actually, ever since I debuted as a mangaka, I've always classified my readers' letters according to their prefectures. (What a strange person...) In the end, I realized... there are altogether 11 prefectures from which I have never received a single letter! Somehow, I feel ...a bit shocked ...and lonely ...I even began to have extreme thoughts ...The letters I received from readers .. is it really very little...?

Am I not very popular...? Ah, no... it is actually still okay (laugh) ...That is why! Readers from (from north to south) Aomori, Yamagata, Miyagi, Toyama, Nagano, Fukui, Shiga, Yamaguchi, Kumamoto, Miyazaki, Okinawa! Please hurry and send letters to me! If you send now, there is still a chance of you getting the title, "the first in XX prefecture to send a letter to Mota"! (I think nobody wants it .) Anyway, please give me your guidance.

Everybody, please come and take a look!
Mota's drafts uncovered section

Ah, hello to everyone. This section... is me being thick-skinned and revealing my drafts... The four drafts shown here are all scenes from "Blue Sky Playground" Chapter 1! Isn't it full of memories? (Are you stupid...?) Actually, every time I finish drawing the manuscript, I will throw away the drafts. I have no idea why these few pages are still being kept... It is really a mystery... Exactly why?

Are you all shocked after seeing these? My drafts are sketched so messily... When I first knew about it, I was actually shocked myself (laugh). Everywhere the figures look like this ⊠ (diagram)... It is impossible to distinguish which is Mirita, which are the twins... The only way of identifying the figures is through the circles on their foreheads which have Mirita, Kaise, Nomura, etc. written in them. Ever since my works started being published, my drafts have always been like this. When I was still drawing one-shots, my drafts were all very detailed! (No matter how detailed your drafts are, it's no use... (laugh)) But now they have become like this...

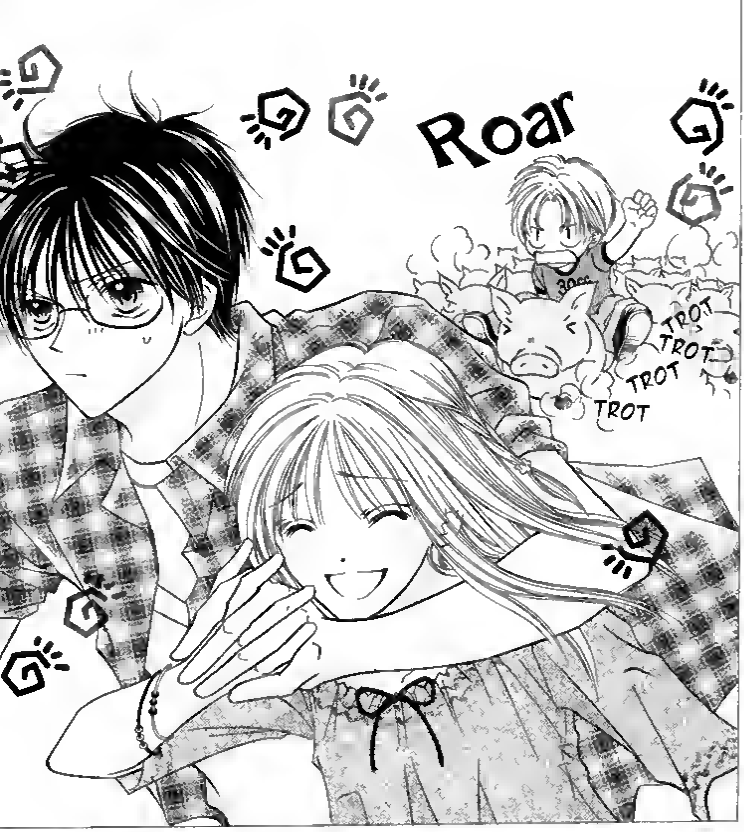
Actually, I have always wanted to see how other people's drafts are like. After publishing my works on Margaret for so long, I have actually never made friends with the other mangakas during these 3 years... Sob... The main reason is because I never participated in activities, such as the New Year's gathering... Another reason is because I'm too afraid to meet with strangers... But, next year I must go to gatherings! I really wish to make new friends! To all mangakas working for Margaret, please give me your guidance when that time comes...

My other wish is to become an assistant for others... I really wish to try it. Maybe some people may say... you cannot even submit your manuscripts on time, you still wish to become an assistant for other people? Hmm...but, I really will like to try rushing out manuscripts overnight at someone else's house... I would really like to see what other people's manuscripts look like. I also would like to feel the atmosphere when all the assistants are discussing together. If there is a chance, please let me try it...

Does everybody want to know? Popularity of the twins uncovered~

On this page, I shall reveal the comparison between the popularity of the twins, Kaise and Nomura~ The ratio of their popularities vary at different parts of the manga. Isn't it interesting? ~ At first, when this series just started, Kaise's popularity was at the top right from the start. Black hair, glasses, easily embarrassed, many readers fell for him just based on these three points! Nearly every reader who wrote to me was Kaise's fan... I was beginning to have doubts... on why I drew twins... But, this can't be helped, at the beginning there was no chance for Nomura to express himself... Sorry.. Nomura.. it's all my fault... In the middle, roughly halfway through the series, more Nomura fans appeared. So happy... (tears) As compared to Nomura, Kaise is actually very hard to draw... It is hard for him to have any actions... Especially near the end of the series, even I cannot help but to be biased towards Nomura... At the end, Nomura finally caught up, now there are about equal numbers of Kaise and Nomura's fans... Readers who originally liked Kaise also said, "Nomura seems so charming nowadays!" Some of them even lost their temper at Kaise, "Hurry up and understand your own feelings!"... (laugh) If this series continues, Nomura will most likely become more popular than Kaise. So nervous... Elder brother, you had a narrow escape~... Just to mention, the third most popular male character is classmate Yamada (laugh)! Congratulations!

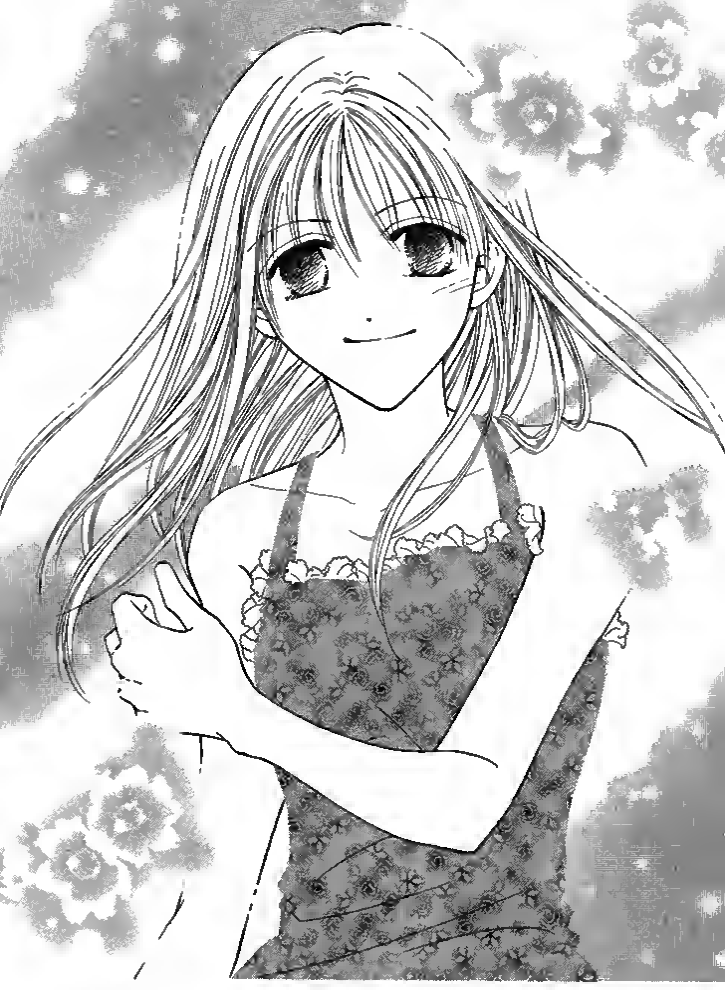
(There were no other male characters to choose from anyway...)



The theme for this picture, "A pair of lovers escaping from Nomura and pigs." (The meaning behind this is very vague.)

Mota Kurasawa in the Future

This is the end of "Blue Sky Playground". My next manga "Seishun Wa Koko da!" (English translation. "Youth is Right Here!"), will be published in Japan in Margaret's combined issue for March and April 2004. I changed my drawing style slightly... only slightly! It is now slightly more mature-looking. I also like my drawing style when I am drawing "Blue Sky~," so I will most likely continue with it. Of course, I will also like to listen to everyone's opinions, so please write to me! Also, this year I definitely will like to draw one-shots! (Oh... I seem so certain...) Please look forward to it~



This is the last page! I am really thankful to you all for reading up to here... after so many letters, and so many pictures, I am really happy!

Then, I wish to see you all again in my next manga! GOOD BYE!
